concert description:

Johnny performs music from the great American songbook - everything from Vaudeville to Sinatra to Tin-Pan-Alley to the big bands. Johnny's concerts are thematic, professional, and polished. They are familiar and accessible. They are the perfect balance of musicality, sentiment, and humor. References are available upon request.

concert specs:

Shows are designed as featured events. They are concert performances, and intended for audiences arranged in a concert-style set-up. Concerts are not intended to be 'background' entertainment during other events. Alternative options are negotiable at the time of booking.

A stage is not necessary, but kindly allow ample room for the performance - ideally against a wall and accessible to a power outlet. Johnny provides all sound equipment for the concert.

Concerts are intended for indoor venues. Alternative options are negotiable at the time of booking.

Concerts are approximately 60 minutes in duration. 'After-dinner' concerts are approximately 30 minutes in duration. Alternative options are negotiable at the time of booking.

A piano is not required, but will be utilized if available. Johnny offers a piano prelude approximately 20 minutes before the specified start-time. For 'after-dinner' events, Johnny can provide piano music during the meal time. Duration and specifics of such music will be determined at the time of booking.

Concerts are booked with Johnny directly via email or phone.

Concerts are confirmed with a letter and/or invoice via email or standard US mail.

Concerts are confirmed the Monday prior to the concert date via email or phone.

Fees vary, and will be agreed upon at the time of booking. A flat rate is determined on a per-show basis. Johnny does not operate on an hourly fee.

Johnny works in conjunction with many musicians throughout the area, including several big-bands. Concerts involving any such musicians are determined at the time of booking, and may require additional and alternate specs.
